

No Shops in Acland Street: the Autobiography of an Entertain- ing Lady / Hélène Jacoby Swieca ; transcribed, compiled and edited by Cecily Parris.

Hélène Jacoby was born in St Kilda, Victoria over 90 years ago. She began singing in public at the age of 3 and her career in Australian theatre, radio and television spanned over six decades.

No Shops in Acland Street is her story, as told to Cecily Parris. She tells with spirit and humour about her early life, and her travels and adventures in theatre, radio drama, country radio and the fashion industry all woven around family and three marriages - revealing a highly entertaining lady.
